

Asian Perspective Call for Papers

Asian Perspective is a quarterly peer-reviewed social sciences journal of world/comparative politics that devotes its pages to critical analysis of the global, regional, and transnational issues affecting Asia.

Bringing thought-provoking examination of the significant developments in Asia as they unfold to the scrutiny of its readership, the journal continues to promote a healthy exchange of ideas among IR scholars, students, and policy makers.

www.AsianPerspective.org

ASIAN PERSPECTIVE IS EDITED AND PUBLISHED BY THE INSTITUTE FOR FAR EASTERN STUDIES, KYUNGNAM UNIVERSITY, KOREA, IN COOPERATION WITH THE MARK O. HATFIELD SCHOOL OF GOVERNMENT, PORTLAND STATE UNIVERSITY, USA, AND IS LISTED ON THE SOCIAL SCIENCES CITATION INDEX (SSCI).

Manuscript Submissions

We welcome manuscripts from academia bearing upon issues in the social sciences in general and particularly world/comparative politics and Asia's regional affairs.

Authors may submit manuscripts via email as follows:

IFES: The Institute for Far Eastern Studies, Kyungnam University

Attention: Dean J. Ouellette, ouellett@kyungnam.ac.kr

PSU: Portland State University

Attention: Editor-in-Chief, Mel Gurtov,
Mgurtov@aol.com

Contributors based in North and Latin America and Europe are kindly requested to submit manuscripts to PSU; all others should submit to IFES.

For further details please visit the Manuscript Submission Guidelines page on our website.